FOREWORD

On the pages that follow, we give to you
A recollection of events of the class of '52.
Tears (few) and laughter have prevailed,
But through storms many ships have sailed.
Our ship is sailing up the sea of success.
Tho' gray clouds may come, we'll do our best.
Since we boarded the ship in the fall of '48
Our voyage has been slow, in many ways great.
We drifted along toward our destination—
Had our plays, proms, and our education.
The compass directed, the ship pursued the course.
Tho' disillusioned some, we pushed ahead with force.
And all at once we saw the figures of '52
Looking down at us from up there in the blue.
Father Time then appeared and told us to hasten—
The ship was entering port, time mustn't be wasted.
The gangplank was lowered, meaning all ashore.
We gathered our belongings, to return no more.
Gazing from shore, we saw the ship depart to sea
To return another year, with the class of '53.

Mr. Harry R. Stevens

We, the Senior Class, dedicate to you
This, our yearbook of nineteen fifty-two.
To one who is certainly deserving of such,
We have always appreciated you very much.
You have shown your loyalty by being to us,
A leader and friend who is thoughtful and just.
Now, as our four years at Grafton High end,
It is with great pleasure that we dedicate this
Yearbook to you, our principal and friend.

"OUR BEST TO YOU"

Back in November we began our work.
There wasn't time for a sigh or shirk.
Assignments were given - deadline to reach.
At times to help us, Mr. Dorsey gave a speech.
He told us to work, and that we did.
Ads were gotten by every "kid".
We topped our goal, which was so good
And everyone helped in any way they could.
Then patrons were gotten by one and all
From all residents within Grafton's wall.
Then a trip to Lorings we all took
To have our pictures taken, our best we must look.
The finished pictures came out well
We sure felt proud . . . you could tell!
Deadlines approached and we worked even more.
We realized we couldn't waste time, that was sure.
Putting the book together was an exciting task
And everyone helped, what more could we ask?
The completed book, we think, is a success.
Why shouldn't it be? We did our best!

ALMA MATER

Come classmates, let us raise a song
And sing it loud and clear.
Our Alma Mater is our theme,
Old Grafton, loved and dear.

Grafton! Grafton! Challenge thus we fling!
Grafton! Grafton! Hear the echoes ring!
Thy honor shall be ever dear,
The green and white without a peer
As long as we can give a cheer,
For dear old Grafton High.

Thy name we'll cherish all our lives.
Thy honor we'll uphold
And wish that we were back again,
Within thy classic fold.

Grafton! Grafton! Challenge thus we fling!
Grafton! Grafton! Hear the echoes ring!
Thy honor shall be ever dear,
The green and white without a peer
As long as we can give a cheer,
For dear old Grafton High.

CLASS HISTORY

"Turn Back the Hands of Time"

Listen my friend, we give to you
Escapades from the class of '52.
It was on a bright September morn in '48
We hurried to school, we couldn't be late.
We were filled with fear, you could easily see.
We had just carved our names on Grafton's family tree.
We were welcomed by Seniors with plenty of glee
As they joyfully put us through the third degree.
A reception and initiation was given to all
And it took place in Grafton's hallowed Town Hall.
Using a thimble to fill a pail must have been fun.
The boys, in short dresses, were enjoyed by everyone.
With much vision and great foresight
We elected our officers, handsome and bright.
Ray Cadrin, a capable president was he.
Doris Byron was his helpful V. P.
Barbara Johnson, secretary, recorded our day
And Joe Adams, treasurer, made each one pay!

To Boston for our class trip we went.
At night we returned, our sleepy heads bent.
It was a Red Sox game we went to see
Accompanied by our advisor, Mr. Dorsey.
That night to Grafton we returned—
A pile of homework to be learned!
In our freshmen year we did laugh and jest
Until our teachers thought each one was a pest.
Back to school in the fall, Sophomores we will be.
Now it is time to close the door on one year's history.

In the fall with happy smiling faces
We entered school to take our places.
Instead of short pants, we wore knickers to the knee
For we were now Sophomores, as you could see.
Ray Cadrin, such a wonderful job he did do,
We elected him our president for the second year too.
Doris Byron was voted to be his assistant again
And Carolyn Merigold recorded our deeds with her pen.
Joe Adams, so capable was he,
Again was elected to care for the Treasury.
The Upton "kids" came to join in the fun.
New friendships started and we were one.
An executive committee was then elected

To help with plans that were selected.
Soon plans for our Hop filled the air.
Details going wrong gave many gray hair.
Finally everything was planned to a "T"
Everyone did his job with efficiency.
This year to Nantasket we did go
And it was fun to swim in the cold H<sub>2</sub>O.
We ate hot dogs and on the roller coaster screamed!
This was so much more fun than we had ever dreamed.
Every ride in the park was filled with fun
But soon homeward we had to run.
Our second year was joyous and gay,
It seemed perfect in every way.

Back to school as Juniors next year
And everyone was telling of vacation cheer.
We were now Juniors, and very proud of the fact
We showed the freshmen how to act.
Ray Cadrin was so good two years before,
That we elected him president once more.
Butler Smith was elected V. P. this year,
And Jeannette Trottier was our secretary here.
Again, we entrusted to Joe Adams our fund
Thus the election of class officers was done.
This was the year to choose a class ring
That would make each of us feel like a king.
This being done, we were proud and gay.
Next, thoughts turned to the Junior Cabaret.
Rehearsals began and everything went fine.
Miss Noyes coached "Star Struck", perfecting each line.
"Curses, the Villain is Foiled" by Mr. Pontbriand.
Everyone thought the plays were grand.
To the Edgewood House we went in old jeans
To decorate it for the coming scenes.
We wanted it in perfect form
For this was the night of our Junior Prom.
The girls in their gowns looked adorably sweet.
The fellows in their tux were sharp and neat.
Mr. Sturke crowned our ravishing queen;
She was Jane Peterson, who reigned supreme.
As her attendants we had Peg Kennedy and Dot Mack.
During this prom night, nothing did we lack.
Thus our Junior year ended at last.
Our memories to be put into the past.
One more summer before that grand joy!
We would be Seniors, the real McCoy!

Busting a button, back to school came we—
Proud Seniors, as you could easily see!
The Freshmen were given a reception in the Town Hall.
The acts, jesting, and fun was enjoyed by all.
This year not one of us was allowed to shirk
For we had to earn money and all had to work.
Soon our officers came before us paradin'
Led by our president, popular Ray Cadrin.
Butler Smith again took the V. P.'s grind—
One as good would be hard to find.
Beverly Francis took over the secretary's seat.
She was capable, efficient, and hard to beat.
Joe Adams again was elected to the Treasury
Collecting money kept him busy as a bee.
To earn money, a lot of work we had to do.
Selling cards and stationery were only a few.
Jean La Salle, as editor of the COMPASS, we elected.
To get pictures, ads and news, we were all selected.
The Senior Play "Fresh Fields" was a huge success!
The actors and actresses all did their best.
Then plans for a Minstrel Show filled the air.
We worked hard, for there was no time to spare.
We had songs, jokes, and pranks of all sorts.
Everyone accepted our antics like good sports.
WASHINGTON! There we went excited and gay
And invaded it in any and every way!
New York, with its buildings, was another sight!
This vacation, in our memory, will be held tight.
After a hectic, but wonderful week,
Dear old Grafton we began to seek.
Arriving home, we had much to relate
About our stay in Washington and New York State.
Then it was necessary to pay all our class dues
For our caps and gowns we soon had to choose.
Another event of long-remembered fame
Was our Class Night, so-called by name.
There was fun and fellowship with each friend.
And then a gift was given to all, in the end.
At Graduation, with a tear in each eye,
We said our farewells to dear Grafton High.
So my friends, you have just heard
How the events in the class of '52 occurred!
We give thanks to our teacher, Mr. Dorsey our friend,
Who worked hard to help us right down to the end.
It's a great day a'coming, and the future is bright.
With high school behind us, we'll make out all right.

BY DORIS BYRON
THELMA STOTT

We, the class of fifty-two
 Being sound in mind and body too,
 Upon those beneath
 Do hereby bequeath
 These gifts as of yet untold,
 As our will we now unfold.
 To all our teachers we bid "adieu"
 On this day that we all rue.
 We leave our friends and school too
 And we're leaving our very best to you.
 Mr. Dorsey deserves so much praise,
 After our stunts he's still in a daze.
 His advice will help in years to come,
 And we leave "thank-you's and well done."
 Upon the Junior Class we do bestow
 Good wishes, they'll need them and how!
 We also leave spunk, bravery and luck.
 But still they'll need a lot of pluck.
 To the Sophomores, the Forgotten Men,
 We leave wishes of what might have been.
 Do all you can, and do your best.
 Remember, never on your laurels rest.
 To the Freshmen we do leave
 A common kitchen utensil, the sieve.
 This is to remind them not to let fall
 Through loop holes, opportunity's call.
 Now we begin with more gifts of '52
 And here is what is left to you.
 Lorraine Auger leaves Grafton High sadly,
 But Dick Fadden leaves for Millbury gladly.
 That shy approach is left by Velma Allain
 To Mildred Allen who could use the same
 Pauly Brown leaves those blue eyes go great,
 To Norman Cote, to prove he's really awake.
 Janet MacDougall leaves her quiet way
 To John Putnam who's exceptionally gay.
 Johnny Magill leaves this famous quotation
 "Don't let books interfere with education."
 Polly Huchowski leaves that red galore,
 To Jean Barney who doesn't need any more.
 Joe Adams leaves his suped-up hot-rod car
 To Paul Jacobson who has to walk so far.
 Vic Mathurin leaves this that is a hit,
 In Jerry's own words, "I like it!"
 Jan Trottier leaves her horn-rimmed specs
 To Glad Bigelow, to watch the "decks".
 "Big Sister" Georgia Giro is glad to leave
 To Grafton High, her little brother Steve.
 Florence Perry leaves in her car
 And would NEVER part with it by far.
 Cuteness, of which she doesn't lack,
 Is left by popular Dottie Mack.
 Carolyn Merigold leaves her height
 To Maxine O'Rourke who's a cute tyke.
 Barb Johnson leaves her acting ability
 To any member of the play cast of '53.

"Just leaves!" That's all the boy said.
George Leland leaves that handsome wave
To Tom Taft who makes "little" gals rave.
Ruthie Page, our popular lady athlete.
Leaves cheerleaders that can't be beat!
Beverly Francis leaves her dancing shoes
To Connie Chaput who's in the news
Dick Voss, the class' most handsome guy,
Leaves many girls with a sigh.
Bill Richardson leaves his basketball fame
To Joe Tebo who will make his own name.
Dick Varney leaves Walt Perras the adage
"Good things come in a little package."

Ken Messenger leaves Sandra with regret,
But we leave his picture so she won't fret,
Carole Nelson and her brother Kenny
Leave to join comedian Jack Benny.
Peg Kennedy leaves with Ray, the dear,
They were voted couple of the year.
Wilda Heavner leaves her piano skill
To Julia Baran who fills the bill.
Marilyn Heselton leaves those flirty eyes
To Dick Pearson who rates many sighs.
Ricky Morris leaves his many conquests
To John Hayes who's scared of the other sex.
Beverly Snow leaves her bashfulness
To Abby Warren to calm her loudness.
Bob Channell leaves those bright red socks
Ruth Yarrington leaves her "curly" locks.
Eddie French leaves a body-building course
To Joe Huchowski to protect himself by force.
Joanne Orff leaves a hunting license for men
To Carolyn Messenger who's a quiet little wren.
Shirley Johnson leaves one worn vitamin pill
To the ever quiet Noe boy, named Bill.
Barbara Brewer leaves her dignity
To Al Hubbard who is a bit silly.
Great intelligence is left by Ed Brown
To Chet Lysik to remove that frown.
Jean LaSalle pauses, to leave good luck to he
Who may be Compass Editor in fifty-three.
Judy Croteau sat and thought and sat
And finally leaves, so that's that!
So this is the end as you can see,
And to our will we must write finis.
We hope that you will find
Legally attested, sealed and signed,
All that we have left to you
On this 6th day of June, 1952.

CLASS "I'll Be

When Father Time catches up
What will he behold?
Will he bring us happiness
And fortunes untold?

Or should we foretell that
In the future we shall see
A life in store for us
That is not meant to be?

Many years have come and gone
Since we have been in school.
Now we know what Mr. Dorsey meant
When he said that life was cruel.

Variety is the spice of life,
As we can plainly see.
Jeannette Trottier is studying
The great men of the sea.

Butler Smith is also
A lover of the blue.
'Cause he is out there fishing
For a mermaid who'll be true.

When we sail across the sea
A Paris designer there will be.
He has a shop in a little harbor
And his name is Bobby Barber.

On a trip to the opera
You can feast your eyes
On a second "Caruso"
About the same size.

He can really create a spell.
Who is the man? Frank Dauteuil.
Doris Pion is at his side,
A ballerina . . . Grafton's pride.

Starting our tour of show business
Around the corner we go.
There we meet Ricky Morris
Replacing Sid Stone on Texaco.

Dagmar was quite a sensation,
But she is no more;
For Babs Johnson is drawing the crowd
And thrilling men galore.

From the French Riveria to America
Marilyn Heselton can be found
Dancing the Charleston,
For which she is renowned.

Behind the scenes of the T. V. show
Can be heard a thundering crash.
Red Anderson is the cause of this,
But now he's getting cash.

The sounding bugle, flash of silk!
They're off at Lincoln Downs.
Polly Huchowski, the booky
Takes bets on blacks and browns.

Children are a bundle of joy,
But sometimes they are not.
Mutt Mathurin has found that
Nursery teaching is not so hot!

Another enrapt in little things
And the head of a popular nursery,
Is Pauline Brown, proud as can be,
Of her little tree nursery.

Also interested in Mother Nature
Is the heir to Prout the Florist.
Eddie French and his wife June
Sell flowers to every tourist.

"Sleepy Lagoon" is for John Magill
And he's living to its standard.
For now he's a mattress tester
In the window at Lane and McCandard.

Coming to the Farmer's Market
You are startled by a voice.
It is sweet Vivian Ambrose
Selling vegetables crisp and moist!

The feminine side of T. V. shows
Are Lillian Strom and Dot Mack,
Supporting each other on a trapeze.
Of courage they do not lack.

Living a somewhat plainer life
Than that of the entertainer,
Is Bev Johnson, pushing triplets,
But she is no complainer!

Another one with strings attached
And by that we do mean apron—
Is Ray Cadrin, a home-loving hubby,
Peg Kennedy his careering matron.

PROPHECY

"Seeing You"

Bob Channel took the fatal step
As he explained to Miss Noyes,
He has really married his "awful" wife
And now has some awful boys.

There must be someone athletic
And Bev Francis fits just right.
For she is a woman wrestler
In her purple and green tights.

Helping to rear our New York deb's,
Lorraine Auger teaches what is right.
By students at her finishing school,
She's considered more than bright.

Frannie Bolack has been evicted
By the rodents in his house;
He has found that hamsters,
Multiply faster than a mouse.

Babs Brewer desired to be a secretary
And her dream came true so far.
For now she has loads of clothes
And drives a huge Cadillac car.

"Man's best friend is a dog"
Is what the people say
And being manager of a dog kennel
Brings Georgia Giro much pay.

You can thank George Leland
For the cleanliness of your street
For as sanitation engineer,
He keeps them looking neat.

Plumbing is not strictly for men
Carolyn Merigold has this trade.
She repairs Grafton's plumbing
With Kenney Nelson as her aide.

Sitting on top of the world
Is not all sugar and spice.
Dick Grignon washes Empire windows
And has insurance on his life.

Way down south is not too far away
If you go by air or rail
As Wilda Heavner is doing,
So she told us by the mail.

Winning an Oscar is a great honor
As Priscilla King found out.
She's now a brush saleswoman
Daily traveling about.

Giving to charity is a good deed
And makes you feel honest and clean.
Bob Gauvin, a Salvation Army drummer
Keeps everyone on the beam.

Velma Allain is as busy as a bee
Developing her aches and pains,
To give practice to her hubby
In mixing prescription grains.

Kenney Messenger, in horse and wagon,
Is doing his deed for the day.
By getting rags for the paper industry
He helps it on its way.

The way to a man's heart is his stomach
As Kathleen Murphy tries to prove.
For she is the Chef Marlarky
And her cooking's in the groove.

The inventor of a peanut machine
Carole Nelson is great as blazes.
Dick Varney's doing the inside repairs
For he fits in the smallest places.

"Extra" hollers Freddie Southland,
As he sells news by an ace reporter.
Joanne Orff got the news
And nothing could be any hotter.

Well on their way to prosperity
Are Florence Perry and Ruthie Page.
As owners of a canary shop
They're considered quite the rage.

Dick Voss is a second Clark Gable
He's admired by women galore.
For when he makes love on the screen
The women yell for more.

A veterinarian Ruth Yarrinton Wanted
To be and her dream came true so far.
People call her a "horse doctor"
And are dragged to her by car.

Changed is Billy Richardson
Who used to be so sporty.
For now he sits and whittles
Although he's close to forty.

Spinning the latest tunes
And bringing us current news,
Is Bev Snow, the disc jockey,
Playing everything from jazz to blues.

Now in the age of jet propulsion
Joe Adams is in his glory.
The hot-rods he soups up for races,
Go faster than those in a story!

For reconciliating couples
Who have had a little fight,
Jane Peterson's the one to help
And makes things seem so right.

But Shirley Johnson, a woman lawyer,
Does not quite agree.
If Jane takes all her business
She cannot get a fee!

"Hokus! Pokus! Dominocus!
Double-jointed peanuts backward."
Mutters Coke Leavitt, trying to make
Things look so awfully awkward.

Dick Fadden has always been traveling
To Millbury, so-o far away.
But now he's an Arctic Explorer
And living on fish in the bay.

Another traveler is Jean La Salle,
Who has moved to another state.
For she has married her Bill
And thinks that life is great!

To be a nurse and save lives
Is what Judy Croteau wanted to be.
Her dream came true . . . almost
She's saving lives at Waikiki.

"They always get you in the end"
Is how the saying goes.
And Gus MacDougall performs rites
As a minister who knows.

Working hand in hand as usual
Are Doris Byron and Thelma Stott.
As mortician and coffin designer
They care for bodies before they rot.

The body must be six feet under
For this you need one who is strong.
Eddie Brown fills the bill
Because his arms are so long.

Mr. Dorsey is still plugging along
No time for even a date.
But he'll be there waiting for us
With Saint Peter at the gate.

Thus we end this little satire
Of what the future will hold.
Let Father Time take care of the rest
For he's left many things untold.

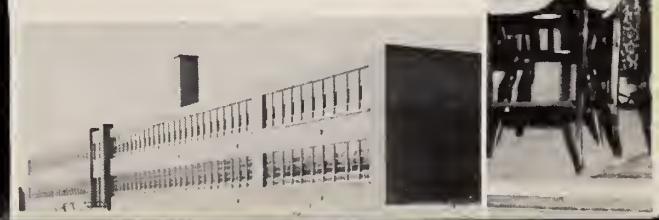

Signed: Ike and Mike who don't look alike
JUDY CROTEAU and RUTH YARRINGTON

P. S. Any resemblance to "people" living or dead is purely coincidental.

To the Juniors

Soon you too, will be the stars of Grafton High,
And like us, you will be the cynosure of all eyes.
You will work hard, and struggle with might,
But take a tip from us, don't give up the fight,
For your shining hour will soon be here
And you will leave dear Grafton with a tear.

President: Jane Kelly
Vice-President: John Hayes
Secretary: Abby Warren
Treasurer: Wally Merriam

To the Sophomores

You have come half way on your travel.
Like in knitting, your years will unravel.
You too, will have your proms and plays
Which will be honored in many, many ways.
So smile through storms, and struggle along,
And your four years will be like a song.

President: Joseph Wright
Vice-President: Bruce Longbottom
Secretary: Joanne Varner
Treasurer: Thomas O'Leary

To the Freshmen

The infants of dear beloved Grafton High,
You have three more years, but don't sigh.
Like you, we were once lowly Freshmen too,
But now the time has come and it is '52.
Now don't you fret, and please don't worry,
For nineteen fifty-five will come in a hurry.

President: Kenneth Porter
Vice-President: Jane Crosier
Secretary: Joan Carron
Treasurer: John Crosier

Typing, Problems and English too!
We'll surely miss them after '52.
And the fun we had in Home Room 1
We will remember in years to come.

"Victory! Victory!" That is the theme
Of the super girls' basketball team.
They have tried and surely succeeded,
And very seldom have been defeated.
Miss Curtis, the coach, was wonderful,
And helped them win games so bountiful.
Thus, urged on by spectators' shrills,
They showed great teamwork and skill.

IF YOU SAW GRAFTON YOU SAW BASKETBALL

In the basketball season of '51 and '52,
The "Indians" won many games and lost few.
Three of last year's first team returned,
And with them playing, the floor really burned.
Our co-captains Raymond Cadrin and Butler Smith
Made each spectacular game seem like a myth.
With their swift running and fancy passing too,
They helped the "Indians" wind up in number two.
Leading our boys to victory and also to fame
Was their wonderful coach, Vincent Malewicz by name.
We, of Grafton High, certainly salute you boys.
You played exciting games, and we made the noise.
Ranking high were team co-operation and school spirit.
With these qualities, all trophies you do merit.

Freshmen Reception

The Freshmen Reception was a huge success.
The Seniors did everything you could guess!
They performed in old dresses, jeans, and caps.
There were many acts, even Bev and her taps.
At the end of the show, the Frosh were given
A big sister or brother to help them in "livin."
Though the event is over, it remains a memory,
And will stay in the hearts of all, till eternity.

To Those Among Us

Whom we have known so well through these four Grafton years.

With whom we have worked and played: shared joys and sorrows.

Who came with us, as bewildered Freshmen, enthusiastically learning to be a part of Grafton High.

Who gave us courage when the road seemed steep.

Who now walk with us down the last road toward Commencement.
May it be a true commencement, a new beginning
Of lives finding increased richness and usefulness.

Success to you, our Classmates.
But above all,
Happiness!

Truly -
